ALUMNAE NEWS

FROM OUR DEAN

March 22, 1938

GREETINGS TO THE ALUMNAE:

The Alumnae Association is celebrating this year its twelfth anniversary and is holding up its head as it begins to assume the stature and responsibilities of adult life.

As we review the careers of our three hundred and twelve graduates we have a sense of pride in their achievements. It is encouraging to go from place to place and find Yale graduates associated with the successful nurses of this and other countries. It is not now unusual to find their names among the speakers on both state and national programs, and as the years go on we look to them for new accomplishments.

At the beginning of the year, one hundred and forty-nine students were registered in the School, but in the natural course of events nine fell by the wayside, therefore we are closing our fourteenth year with an enrollment of one hundred and forty students from eighty-three different colleges from thirty-two different states.

The year 1937 will be memorable in that it marked the inauguration of a new President for Yale University and we are happy and proud that Dr. Charles Seymour, well known for many years to Yale, was chosen as leader of the University, and it is our rare good fortune to be numbered among the schools which come under his Presidency. Mr. Seymour is interested in maintaining a high degree of excellence and of scholarship in the graduate and professional schools, as well as in the undergraduate college and other schools of the University.

At the President's traditional inauguration in Battell Chapel, the Faculty of the School of Nursing was well represented, and the president of the Student Council, in academic dress, took her place with those from other schools, as one of fifty student ushers.

In the last report of President Angell, you will recall that he referred to the time when we would limit the enrollment in the School of Nursing as in other Schools in the University, as it was the policy not to admit more students than could be given the highest and the best training.

Those of you who were students in the pioneer days of the School often wondered if the goal of fifty students in one class would ever be reached. For the last two years it has been exceeded, and the present year gives promise again of going over the top.

The year 1937-1938 has been a difficult year in general for nursing and for nurses, and the recession, as it is called, has added many burdens. Notwithstanding the fact that there has been unemployment in some areas, there has appeared to be, in almost every state, a dearth of nurses to fill positions on the general staff in hospitals. The reasons can be traced to the increase which hospitals, in spite of depleted finances, have made in the number of nurses employed for the bedside care of the sick and to the change of status in hours of work.

I well recall the time when, on our own hospital nursing service, thirty to forty graduate staff nurses were thought to be an exceedingly large number. In contrast at the present time we have a general staff of from one hundred and fifteen to one hundred and thirty graduate nurses, and even this number seems quite inadequate.

You will be pleased to know that thirty-eight of our own graduates were appointed on the Faculty and on the Hospital nursing staff during the past year, and we look forward to the appointment of a much greater number during the coming year.

The class which graduates in June will be the first to complete the course of thirty-two months. Included in this basic course is part of the former four months' graduate course in ward management. While much has been achieved during the past fourteen years, there are still many problems of education with which to experiment and others still to solve. We need more resources for scholarships and fellowships both for undergraduate and for graduate study. We need a new residence and much more security in our space for the teaching of the nursing arts. So long as we have a hospital ward in which to conduct this teaching, we will not suffer, but we are in constant dread that with the expansion of the Hospital and its needs, our excellent classroom may, in the twinkling of an eye, be commandeered for patients, and we then would be in dire distress.

In the meantime, we are gratified in the development of the School and look forward to other years of progress, which, with your cooperation and understanding, will be assured.

I am happy to send these greetings to our Alumnae, and to wish you success not only in your work but joy and satisfaction in your personal lives.

Faithfully yours,

Effie J. Day, Jr.

THE ALUMNAE ASSOCIATION

A main objective for achievement the past year has been revision of the constitution of the Alumnae Association of the School of Nursing so as to strengthen our organization on the one hand, and to bring it into line with the requirements of the State and National Nurses' Associations on the other. The rapidly increasing size of our body of alumnae has created not only new needs and greater demands upon us as an organization, but has increased also our sense of responsibility relative to conducting our group activities with more mature and business-like methods.

Accordingly, in January, 1938, a committee of four set to work on the revision project with copies of model constitutions from the State and National Associations at hand. As discussion and debate proceeded the questions were inevitably resolved with aid of the guiding thought: "We must try to build a constitution which will serve our expanding needs in a business-like manner." For instance, a Board of Directors composed of nine members has been proposed, a number of committees created and defined, an annual audit of the treasurer's books required, more definite plans shaped for enrolling the members of the graduating class as members in good standing of the Alumnae Association, etc.

After the Revision Committee completed the task of putting into form the proposed constitution such as it was thought would meet the needs of the organization and the requirements of the Connecticut State Nurses Association, a copy was sent to State headquarters for inspection and approval, or, suggested corrections. It is hoped and expected that this preliminary checking will be accomplished in order that copies may be mailed to members of the Alumnae Association in time for perusal and formulation of opinion in preparation for official voting on the new instrument at the Annual Meeting in June. Opportunity to participate in adoption of a new constitution for the Association will in itself, we hope, be an inducement to attend the Annual Meeting.

There is no organization of the total body of graduates from Yale University corresponding to a Yale University Alumnae Association it was learned from conference with the office of the Yale Alumni Board. Early custom evolved the practice of making the Class the main unit for group activities and tradition perpetuated it. Several Schools within the University have alumni associations corresponding to our own. Different alumni interests are coordinated through the Alumni Board which recognizes the Alumnae Association of Yale University School of Nursing as one of Yale's graduate bodies set up to serve the interests of Yale University. Were there no other imperative need for the scheme of organization used by our School, the set-up of the State and National Nurses' Associations would require it.

It is the present expectation of the Revision Committee that preliminary work will be completed and that copies of the revised constitution can be mailed far enough in advance to make it possible for alumnae to study it individually and in Regional Groups, and that the revision itself can be consummated by vote at the Annual Meeting in June. We would regret seeing another whole year go by without an adequately functioning constitution.

STUDENT COUNCIL

During the past year the Student Council has been considerably reorganized, and a start has been made toward a wider program of activity. Last spring the constitution was reframed in order to make for more continuity of policy from year to year, and the membership increased from nine to fourteen members. Instead of yearly dues, a fee of five dollars is now required of all freshmen at the time of registration which has made a more stable fund and enabled us to plan our activities more definitely.

Our biggest achievement of the year was the success which the Student Council and the Sterling House Council had in obtaining a new piano for Sterling dormitory from the University. To fill another long-felt need the Council also purchased for the infirmary two radios. As in past years, we made a substantial contribution in support of the Sterling Tea Room and toward Christmas gifts for employees in the hospital and dormitories. A plan is at present underway for establishing a yearly scholarship of fifty dollars to be given to a member of the Junior class, the recipient to be determined by the administration.

The Council throughout the year has served as a clearing-house for student opinion and administrative wishes. We have been very pleased with the apparent increase in interest and confidence which both the administration and the student body have shown in the efforts of the Council, and it is our hope that each year will see the Council functioning more and more as a link between the faculty and the students.

REGIONAL GROUPS

The first 1938 meeting of the Boston Regional Group was held at the home of Betty Howland, '32, where twelve members spent a most pleasant evening on February first, discussing babies' formulas, husbands, jobs, and interests. Elizabeth Barry was elected chairman and Kay Thornton, secretary-treasurer. This group sends its members a news form as an incentive for choice bits. Their next meeting will be held May third in Boston at which time Anne Ryle from the New Haven group will respond to their request to bring them up to date on the activities of the school. Boston is one of the most progressive of the regional groups. Good luck, with a splendid piece of work well started.

On March fifteenth, after a long, chilly winter, three members of the Albany group met and appointed Catherine Tierney of Troy as permanent chairman. Suggestions were sent to New Haven concerning the June reunion.

Yale in San Francisco is considering the possibility of giving Y. S. N. some publicity on the west coast by means of interviewing students interested in the school. Viola Hovey Cowles spoke at a round table vocational discussion at Mills College on March 30.

The first meeting of the Michigan group was held at the home of Eleanor King in Marshall, Michigan. (Is Eleanor edging towards Yale once more?)

The Hartford group desires to remain an integral part of the New Haven group but they have appointed Margaret Sargent as their spokesman. They wish to hear more about the progress of mental diseases with especial regard to insulin therapy at the June reunion.

A meeting of the upper New York state group will be held very shortly under the direction of Helen Stringer.

Helen Peters has contacted the five members of the Alumnae Association who reside in Oregon, and she has reported on their individual activities.

April ninth, the Baltimore Regional Group met at the home of Isabel Howe Wegman, '31. Among the subjects discussed was the payment of non-resident dues, and the advantages derived from so doing, namely, because of being a member in good standing, the privilege of joining nursing organizations such as Red Cross, Nursing Registries, state associations, etc.

The New Haven Regional Group has sixty-two members this year and in spite of its title the geographical distribution of its members includes Bridgeport, Guilford, Milford, East Hampton, Orange, Southbury, Madison and Hartford.

The first meeting of the year was held on December fourteenth, 1937, when forty-one members met at dinner. The New Haven group felt exceptionally fortunate in having both Miss Goodrich and Miss Taylor participate in this meeting. Following the spirit of a decision made at this time to invite the undergraduate Yale nurses to future meetings whenever it seemed practical, on April 22d, 1938, at an after dinner coffee, the students joined in hearing Miss Marguerite Luce of the Class of 1931 speak of her experiences in China.

The Opportunity Sale, under the direction of Miss Jean MacLean was again a successful undertaking and at the annual meeting of the Y. S. N. Alumnae Association the New Haven Regional Group hopes to contribute a substantial amount to the Annie W. Goodrich Scholarship Loan Fund.

The Alumnae Association is gratified with the attainments of the regional chairmen in procuring such excellent response during the past year. We hope that they will strive to continue their efforts so that the association may achieve greater unity during the coming year.

REUNIONS

Reunions will be held this year by the classes of 1928 and 1933. Those acting as reunion chairmen for their respective classes are: Eleanor Lewis, 525 E. 65th St., N. Y. City, for the class of 1928 and Anne Ryle, 350 Congress Ave., New Haven, for the class of 1933. The chairmen are eager and anxious to receive suggestions for Reunion plans.

1929

IMPORTANT, announcing one year in advance our tenth reunion in New Haven. Come one, come all from each of your fifteen locations for an illuminating and jolly get-together. Plan now for June 1939.

THIRD ANNUAL ALUMNAE CONGRESS

Tentative Program

(Daylight Saving Time)

June 19th, Sunday

Baccalaureate Sermon, Woolsey Hall.

Commencement.

Alumnae invited to march in the procession and take places. Alumni Luncheon, following Commencement, in the Commons.

12:00 Noon Luncheon for the graduating class and friends, Nathan Smith Hall. Visiting Alumnae who do not attend Luncheon in the Commons invited.

(The usual letter and final program will go out later from the Dean's Office.)

FROM OUR DEAN EMERITUS

Hartford, Conn.,
April 8, 1938.

DEAR COLLEAGUES AND FORMER STUDENTS:

Last year in sending a greeting I stated that I was drifting farther and farther away from professional activity. Today I write you from a field seething with action and of absorbing interest.

Last year I mentioned several aspects of our professional contributions in which I felt your interest and assistance was greatly needed. Today I am impelled beyond resistance to beg your interest in this still undeveloped field of Psychiatric Nursing.

Looking backward we cannot fail to be impressed with the progress in the understanding and treatment of the mentally ill. Nevertheless it must, I think, be generally admitted that such progress still lags behind—quite far behind slowly acquired knowledge and the means through which such knowledge may most effectually function.

The most superficial consideration of the part nursing could and should play in the aspects of human disorders that is being drawn even more closely into the network of cause and effect of daily life, leaves no question as to the importance and value of knowledge acquired through periods of concentration in the all too available centers of experience—the institutions for the mentally ill.

You will understand my intensified interest in this field when you learn that in January I accepted at the request of Dr. C. C. Burlingame, the post of Consulting Director of the Nursing Service of the Neuro-Psychiatric Institute of the Hartford Retreat.

This institution, established in 1820, that was for many years noted for its progressive method in the care of the mentally ill, had in recent years markedly retrogressed. Within the brief period of seven years, the vision and dynamic force of the Psychiatrist-in-Chief, Dr. Burlingame has so transformed this institution that a retreat for the mentally ill is becoming, has indeed to a very great extent become, an educational center where the guest-patients and the personnel, ever increasing in numbers and efficiency, by whom they are directed, are mutually concerned in the search for a better way of life.

I find here two outstanding developments—a program of activities directed by a large and highly specialized faculty and that includes the three essentials of daily activity,—exercise, education, and recreation; secondly, the replacement of the attendant by the college aides.

Two courses are now in the process of development—the Post-Graduate Course in Psychiatric Nursing and the Post-Collegiate Course for Psychiatric Aides. These courses bring to the field a matured group of students whose contribution to the patients under their care and observation gives promise of the best results, while they themselves cannot fail to find stimulation and interest in the broad program of education developed for the patients, not less than from their courses of instruction given by a carefully selected group of scientists.

As you will understand, I am proud and happy that two of our graduates are with us, Miss Dingman and Miss Stockwell, and that in the not too distant future two more are coming, Miss MacLean in August, and Miss Curtis in February.

I wish you could really know with what interest I read of you in the ALUMNAE NEWS, or my keen pleasure when through some happy circumstance I meet the regional groups.

However turbulent the times, however hard these unmet needs may beat upon us, we cannot fail to recognize a steady advancement in the essential factors of social progress—the growth of knowledge and human understanding through research, experimentations and applications.

You who have brought to your profession so sound and rich a preparation are to me an unfailing source of inspiration, for I know that whether pursuing your profession or finding your life activity in other fields, your interpretation can not fail to be influenced by the social vision that brought and held you to so arduous and so demanding a course as that of Nursing Education.

Faithfully yours,

GLANCES FROM NEAR AND FAR

Class of 1926

Gladys Sweeney Gabriel entertained the Albany Regional Group at her home this winter.

Class of 1927

Last autumn in New Haven, Evangeline Hall Morris addressed a joint meeting of board of health nurses, public health nurses, and hospital nurses on "The Nurse's Part in Syphilis Control." Mrs. Morris will be one of the instructors at the University of Minnesota Summer School.

Priscilla Halpert is assistant to the executive secretary of board of nurse examiners in the state of Louisiana.

Class of 1928

Caroline Holbrook and Eleanor Lewis reminisced at length during their visit to their alma mater on Alumnae Day—February 22d.

Barbara Munson and Elizabeth Lawton, '34 have contributed articles recently to the educational section of the Pacific Coast Journal of Nursing.

Class of 1929

News from Beirut, Syria, tells us that Carolyn Widmer "Laddie" is retiring from the professional ranks at the end of the year. Her position as Dean of the school of nursing will be filled by Miss Katherine Lyman, former nursing arts instructor at Y.S.N. Two excerpts from her letter are as follows: "the biggest item of interest in the school here is that last year we finally introduced a 5-year nursing degree course. We are giving this side by side with our three-year course, which I know isn't an ideal system but is the best we can do at the moment. The girls in the five-year course first have two years in the American Junior College here, then two and one-half years in the school of nursing and then a semester in the university. So far it seems to be working out quite well.

"The Arabs are accustomed to many layers of clothing particularly in winter as there is no heating in the houses and the only way we can pry them loose from their underwear when they come into the hospital is to give them three or four nightgowns, one over the other. I have counted as many as six on one patient. We have no bath-robos, or slippers for the patients so when they get out of bed they put on their own shoes, wrap a bath blanket skirt fashion around their waists so it hangs to the ankles, and they drape a second bath blanket like a graceful shawl about the shoulders. When you add to this costume the bed-pan cover or bath towel made into a turban about the head you can see that the result is quite striking, although perhaps not altogether suitable as an illustration for a nursing text-book on the 'Up Patient.' These rather biblical looking figures drift about the hospital grounds all day long and give it quite a picturesque atmosphere."

Greetings have been received from Gertrude Lingham of Madison, Tennessee.

Class of 1930

Hazel Bowles and Lois Bliss, '31 are attending the biennial Convention in Kansas City.

Hope Perry has been at Teachers College slaving for her master's degree this year. She expects to return to her public health work in Maine early in June.

Tony Daniels has been nursing her sister's family and is now at home in Cambridge, Massachusetts, where she occasionally sees Elizabeth Harris Barton and her two children.

Class of 1931

Where were you on the night of March 19th? Several '31ers were renewing acquaintance and getting caught up on back news while they lounged over the bed, floor and chairs at their hotel on a brief week end in New York. Peg Luce even thought so much of the idea she dropped in from China. Now don't take us too literally, yes, she's been here since fall and has been brushing up on nursing at Presbyterian and taking some Nursing Arts courses at Columbia. All this of course by way of passing the time before summer when she again embarks for China to be gone a mere seven years this trip.

Dottie Huey and Katie Park left their charges at Smith and came in to say "Hello." Personally, we think Dottie found it easier to come than to write saying she couldn't. You know what a whiz she is at letter writing. She is running the Smith College morbidity service with the aid of Katie who takes care of the outpatient department, and Jane Foster, Yale '35, who has her hands full tracking down illness among employees of the college.

Lois Bliss and Reba Wersebe completed the number of bachelor girls present at the get-together. They continue to honor New Haven with their presence, the former is in charge of the night nursing service, the latter insists that the place runs better with fewer sick nurses. Esther Budd, the only other '31er doing nursing in New Haven, makes the Private and Semi-Private nursing service her chief occupation.

But to get back to New York, the others attending were matrons very much married and very much familiated. They came from all directions—leaving their husbands to wrestle with the problem of infant and child care.

Tat Slocum Owen from New Haven, Babs Austin Kavanagh from Litchfield, Connecticut, Migs Morris Scammon from Newton, Massachusetts, Jimmie Tilton Davis from Elmira, New York, Luke Shaw Schultz from Flint, Michigan, and Izzie Howe Wegman tore herself away between feedings to come from Baltimore, Maryland.

Needless to say, considerable time was given to discussion of deliveries, obstetrical anaesthesias, child habits, problems, schooling, etc.

We vote for more such reunions, how about it—will you join us?

Grace Lyman is the director of the nursing service at Cowell Memorial, the student infirmary.

Molly Curtis is studying for her master's at the University of Washington, Seattle, and will join the staff of the Neuro-Psychiatric Institute in February.

Class of 1932

Irma Bieheusen is studying for her master's in Public Health. Whenever you see Bea, she is laden with volumes of all sizes and dimensions (if she hasn't left them somewhere).

Carolyn Herrick has just recently joined the night staff of the N. H. H., and Elizabeth Wilkinson guides the destinies of the private patients during the nocturnal hours.

Ruth Johnson is studying this semester at Teachers College, Columbia, where she expects to receive her master's degree in June.

Jeannette Moore is assistant to Miss Helen Brown formerly of William Wirt Winchester Hospital, who is now the director of nurses at Genesee Hospital in Rochester, New York.

Shirley Speir and her young daughter, Betsey, are spending the summer in Cheyenne, Wyoming.

Fran Thielbar is studying for her master's at University of Chicago.

Class of 1933

Harriet Bradshaw is at last a resident of her beloved Seattle. She is doing some graduate work in public health.

During the past year Time Magazine commended the work against syphilis done in West Virginia by Virginia Dye Virgin. Recently Ginny resigned and is at present vacationing in the mountains of her beloved state.

News from Seattle—Sonia Burcham is the proud mother of five wee red spaniels. Sonia is an ex-officio member of the Class of 1933.

Helen Peters has been appointed field representative of the Northwest Division of the American Red Cross with headquarters in San Francisco. Her territory includes the states of Washington, Oregon, Utah, Nevada, and Idaho.

Shirley Harvey has been appointed director of nurses at the Children's Hospital.

The acting director of nurses of the Englewood Community Hospital, Englewood, New Jersey, is Irene MacIntyre. She has been working for the past few months with Miss Mary Pillsbury, formerly isolation supervisor at the N. H. H.

One of the last three surviving members of the Class of 1933 at Yale is leaving our ranks in July. Jean MacLean is joining the staff of the Neuro-Psychiatric Institute of the Hartford Retreat.

Tabitha Wilson is the educational director at the Westchester Division (Psychiatric unit) of the New York Hospital. Tibby is enjoying exploring Westchester county.

Class of 1934

Elizabeth Ferguson will conduct the first round table discussion on midwifery supervision at the Biennial convention in Kansas City. Elizabeth is doing an excellent piece of work in La Plata, Maryland, where she as nurse midwife is working in a demonstration county with another worker and a public health nurse. It is twenty-four hour duty and 80 per cent of the babies are delivered by midwives.

Martina Lynch has joined Yale at the Brooklyn V.N.A.

A note from Taos, New Mexico, would indicate that Lucille Olsen Pond is thoroughly enjoying life in an old rambling adobe house in the southwest. For a while patients in need of nursing service were cared for by Lou in her own home, but now her time is devoted entirely to her infant daughter, Joan.

During the past year Lily Berman Covit has traveled through the Holy Land.

Iva Torrens has joined the Kellogg Foundation at Battle Creek, Michigan.

Class of 1935

During the past year, Pat Walsh took over the supervision of the Fair Haven division of the New Haven V.N.A. Pat addressed the annual meeting of that association. She discussed in detail the work of a public health nurse in a given day.

Margaret Chalker has returned to the staff of the New Haven Hospital. She is the head nurse of the male urological and orthopedic ward.

Ruth Dingman has joined the staff of the Neuro-Psychiatric Institute of the Hartford Retreat.

Jane Foster has joined the infirmary staff at Smith College.

Anne Leffingwell is getting a little public health experience in Lane County, Eugene, Oregon, before entering other fields of public health.

Ruth Stonington Stevens is in Montreal, Canada, where her husband is interning at the Neurological Institute. She plans to do some graduate work in neurology.

Class of 1936

Margaret Brooks is in charge of the infirmary, Wesleyan University, Middletown.

Last October, Ruth Dean and a friend were the only passengers on a twenty-seven day freighter trip to Naples. Two weeks were spent in Italy and eight days in Switzerland before they started on a cycling trip through France. Seventy miles may be traveled in a day before acquiring cyclist's cramp. Ruth has just returned to the U. S. A. and we are looking forward to many fireside chats.

Frances Fleischer is actively engaged in research work at N. Y. Hospital. She is assisting Dr. Harry Gordon in his study of premature infants.

Jane Harshberger has just recently accepted the position of night supervisor at the Philadelphia-Lying-In Hospital.

The Iglehart twins are both at Syracuse University Hospital. Nettie is the practical arts instructor and Nannie is in the X-ray department. She also helps Nettie in the practical arts department.

Olga Sowizdral inquires assiduously, "what is your name and where were you injured." She is now in charge of the Emergency Room at the N.H.H.

Class of 1937

Rosemary Forbes is with East Harlem and is to be married in June. Mona Cutler Hull is also on the staff of East Harlem.

Catherine Bastress is with Association for Improving the Conditions of the Poor in New York City where she will be joined by Ruth Kozak who is coming from Pittsburgh soon.

Mary Sullivan is studying at Columbia and will do Rural Public Health work this summer.

Katherine Allen has a Rockefeller fellowship at Columbia.

Mary Lou O'Malley is doing Social Work with the Cancer Institute.

Elizabeth Robb is a Supervisor in Ear, Nose and Throat Dept., Welfare Island, New York City.

Very shortly wedding bells will ring for Alberta Hayes who is to be married in June to Dr. Bernard Hartman.

EXCERPT FROM A LETTER FROM CHINA

Yale-in-China,
Changsha
December 5, 1937

“DEAR ALUMNI MEMBERS:

A wintry greeting from Yale-in-China to you all! I wish it might be a Christmas Greeting, but I fear time travels faster than this will—and with so many lines of communication cut off—maybe it will be Easter greetings instead of Christmas.

As you can imagine in a war situation, our hospital of 200 beds is working to full capacity, taking care of the ordinary run of typhoid fever, tuberculosis, cardiacs, schistosomiasis, etc., with the extra burden of caring for wounded aviators and a temporary ward full of wounded soldiers. We also must be prepared for taking care of civilians wounded in air-raids. To date, we have had only one bombing—that, the day before Thanksgiving, when about 60 people were killed and 100 injured. But we have the air-alarm sounded frequently, three or more times a week—whenever the Japanese fly into our province. The alarm is a signal for prompt action in the hospital. Every nurse, doctor, student, and coolie has his or her special work to do and proceeds rapidly and quietly—all the patients who can possibly be moved, and even many who shouldn't, are carried on stretchers of canvas and bamboo poles, down the stairs (for we have no elevators) into the basement, where the poor, frightened and cold patients are stretched out on the floor along the walls of the long wide halls—ward by ward—typhoids, diphtheria children with tracheotomies, obstetrical cases and new-borns in their bassinets! Believe it or not, all the patients, at least 150, are moved within seven minutes from four floors. The alarms usually last about an hour and then the patients must all be moved back. It is of course very disconcerting to our regular work and studies and puts us under a tension that though we sometimes don't realize—is still wearing.

This year we have 115 students in the nursing school—nine of whom are refugee students from the north whose hospitals and schools had to be closed upon the advance of the Japanese—or because of bombing of the towns. Most of these girls arrived penniless—with only summer clothes—and not knowing where their families are or what has become of them. We have taken them in as affiliates until they can return to their own places. But just a few days ago, the head of the Central Gov't Hospital at Nanking arrived in Changsha (after the evacuation of the capital) asking us to take in their ninety students. As we are already crowded to the window sills it sounds impossible—but we are trying to find places for at least some of them—30 to 50 and send the others to different hospitals in other cities.

We have just given examinations to 240 applicants for a training course for ward attendants, mostly men, for use in the wounded soldiers' hospitals. We have accepted 70 of them and they will begin a two months' course immediately. Changsha is being flooded with wounded soldiers and the burden of changing their dressings rests on the nurses and doctors of the two or three hospitals here. We send about four or six students and graduates down every day to the theatres and other large buildings where the men are housed, to change dressings. Then when troop trains come in with from 500 to 1000 wounded soldiers on the train (they are just passing thru on their way to hospitals in the country) we send nurses to the station—each one with a small canvas bag made and especially equipped for this and air raid use. They change dressings right on the train and when finished the train pulls out again.

Then the government has asked us to manage a 500 to 1000 bed hospital for wounded soldiers about thirty miles from here. Nine of our nurses have gone there with as many doctors. So we are short-handed at a time when we are busiest of all.

The government has also told us that our third year students must be ready to go out for service whenever called. To prepare for this time we have shortened the term for our graduating students—and will give them their graduation exams next week. Usually the Nursing Association of China conducts national exams—but this year we must do it ourselves and so we are in the midst of preparing for them. The students must pass both practical and theoretical exams. Really I think they are harder than our Connecticut or California state exams.

I think you would be surprised to find the high educational standards that this school and hospital has. We have a Medical College as well as the School of Nursing and the Chinese doctors are excellent. Although originally begun by Yale University alumni, with a large staff of foreign doctors and nurses, the institution has gradually been turned over until now it is completely under Chinese direction, with only two foreign doctors. I am the only foreign nurse—as Miss Jess Norelius left this last summer to return to the States. In some ways you would not find such a great difference in this school from ones at home, at least in the set-up and curriculum. The students get practice in all departments: O.R., Obs., Gyn., Med., Surg., Ped., OPD, as well as three and one-half months in Public Health which includes School Health, Rural Health, Maternity Health and city V.N.A. They have their full share of case studies, experience records, ward rounds and clinics.

We feel we have taken a big step forward this year when we decided to separate the position of Superintendent of Nurses and Dean of the Nursing School. For the first time we now have one of our own graduates acting as Superintendent of Nurses in the hospital while I am now devoting nearly full time as Dean. It frightened me to death to think of trying to be a Dean—but when there is nothing else to do, somehow one is able to summon up courage and call on all the resources gleaned from New Haven and a good file of A.M.J.N. and P.H. Nursing and pitch in and find it terribly exciting and immensely stimulating. I'll come back to the 1940 re-union and talk to you in Chinese for our nurses do not know enough English to speak it—so I am talking Chinese all day—one can't help but absorb some that way. It's a fascinating country to live in—and the Chinese girls are really grand.

My best wishes to you all. I am always excited to receive the Alumni News Bulletin and find out what interesting things you are all doing.

Greetings for the New Year.

EDNA HUTCHINSON (Class of 1935)."

DUES

$5.00 yearly for those living and working in Connecticut.

This includes dues of $3.00 for membership in the Connecticut State Nurses' Association and in the American Nurses' Association.

$2.00 yearly for non-active and non-resident members.

A subscription to the ALUMNAE NEWS is included when dues are paid by April 1st.

CHANGES IN ALUMNAE OFFICERS

In June, 1937, because of leaving New Haven, the resignations of the president, Shirley Harvey and the secretary, Marion Godehn were accepted. Shirley Speir automatically became president and Mae McCorkle and Elizabeth Wilkinson were elected to the chairs of vice-president and secretary respectively. As president, Shirley Speir represented the Y. S. N. alumnae at the Inauguration Dinner for President Seymour. Because of Shirley's retirement from active nursing, the presidential cloak fell upon the shoulders of Mae McCorkle. The Alumnae are indeed grateful to Mae for handling so admirably the many problems presented during the past year.
